Mikkie's Corner - Health & Nutrition

Avoid getting dehydrated in the hot weather: Follow these guidelines.

- 1.) In general for hot weather we should be drinking 2-4 glasses (16-32oz) of cold water every hour.
- 2.) Have a bit of electrolytes especially if doing heavy work or exercise in the heat. A little powerade or gatorade only about a 1/4 cup added to your water should be good as particularly sodium will be sweated out.
- 3.) Make sure it's cold. The body is trying hard to cool itself, so help it out by ingesting cooler water. Don't be fooled by myths of keeping it the same temperature or hot is better as beware this could lead to overheating yourself.
- 4.) If working or playing that is strenuous - drink 7-10oz (1-1.5 cups) cold water every 10 minutes.
- 5.) Finally stay safe, wear a hat, seek shade and avoid hottest parts of the day to work or play in.
