MIKKIE'S CORNER - Health & Nutrition

Wacky diets - Why is the after affects so devastating? They are devastating because they essentially put your body in survival mode and deprive the body of many functional processes that stresses the body to try to make up for in other ways. Remember a macronutrient is a big nutrient and micronutrients are small nutrients. They are both required to carry out essential tasks in our bodies. The major Macronutrients are: Carbohydrates, Fats and Proteins and are all required for different important functions in our bodies. In general Carbohydrates feed our brains, without glucose the brain cannot function. Fats are involved in many hormonal functions along with Proteins which are also the building blocks in our bodies - RNA, DNA. So when we deprive our bodies of any 1 macronutrient for any length of time it puts a great deal of stress on the body, in which it has to act quickly to adapt to make sure all the areas that usually are taken care of through this missing macronutrient, are being met. It's almost like a generator when the power goes out in your house, it's a backup system and it only lasts for so long before it runs out....to be continued...
